THE INDIAN SOCIAL INSTITUTE

Founded in 1951, Indian Social Institute (ISI) has been a force in the social field; works as a lobbying agency with the government and the socially aware social activists and NGOs. Our main leanings are towards the underprivileged sections of society, especially the women, the scheduled castes & tribes and the poor. Participative research is our strength. We keep in touch with the activists and social scientists through panel discussions, seminars and workshops. We organise from time to time National and International Seminars on socially important issues. Also we spend a lot of time in giving training and in editing and bringing out publications that have a social bend.

Working through various professional units, ISI brings to the fore the issues of the voiceless, and is committed to fight the injustice of the system through the networking of social groups so that people can claim the legitimate rights that are theirs.

The Indian Social Institute also prides in a Library which has more than 25,000 priceless books and over 280 foreign and Indian periodicals which would certainly be the envy of any social research scholar. The Library is open to all serious-minded, research-oriented scholars who can walk in and spend countless hours pouring through the riches that are contained in these books and periodicals.

Our Catalogue gives you an idea of the wide variety of our selection of topics which cover the dalits, the tribals & the women. We also help to educate the public through our highly subsidised and low-priced booklets on Law.

The Indian Social Institute also brings out every quarter an ISI Bulletin – SUBALTERNES – which usually initiates a debate on some current issues that the country is grappling with. It also gives a glance into the involvement of the Institute and also the latest books that we have brought out. You can give your name and address and the Bulletin will reach your doorsteps.

STANDING ORDER MEMBERSHIP

ISI has a Standing Order Membership. You can choose areas like books on: 1. Legal Aid, 2. Weaker sections (Scheduled Castes, Scheduled Tribes and Women), 3. Society and Culture. A Standing Order Member gets 30% discount on books. This is applicable to all the four areas though you might choose only one or two areas. The only condition we put is that you have to take all the books in the area you have chosen. The member pays the postage of course. Membership fee is Rs.500 (Refundable)

Apart from books, we do have a LEGAL EDUCATION SERIES - brought out in booklet forms to give the citizens a right to know and the knowledge to act. A Standing Order Member gets 15% discount on Legal Series.

Every three months, we send you all the books that have come out in the area/areas you have chosen. You pay the bill and we continue to keep you in touch with the socially relevant, well-chosen books.

For more information on the Standing Order Membership, contact: The Chief Publication Officer, Department of Publications, Indian Social Institute, publications@isidelhi.org.in

Ask for our Catalogues that come out every six months.

The Institute holds with pride their RESIDENCE where the participants for the various courses find a "home away from home."

Institute's Conference Rooms and Seminar Rooms stand witness to the intense struggles the social agencies go through when they organise their sessions and workshops here.

For more details and contacts, please see the last page.

We send books by registered post only after receiving the full payment in advance. The cost is excluding postage, packing etc. For ISI books and education series, all Payments are in favour of INDIAN SOCIAL INSTITUTE by MO/DD/PO only. No VPP.

Subaltern is a quarterly bulletin brought out by the Institute primarily to initiate a debate on some current issues of national and international importance. For many years the Institute has been a part of civil society initiatives. Its presence at various forums and platforms is reflected in this newsletter. The articles address vital questions and critically examine the relationship between the state and its people. It reaches diverse segments of society with valuable insights on the relevant issues and the interventions of the Institute through its research, trainings and publications. It gives a glance into the involvement of the Institute and also the latest publications based on the work of the researchers. It is distributed through by post and e-mail (PDF format) to all NGOs, Social Activists, Researchers on free of cost. If you are interested to get a copy of the same, please contact:

Indian Social Institute

This is to introduce to you the "Indian Social Institute", an NGO, based in New Delhi. Our organisation is working as a centre for research, training, publication and advocacy on matters related to Indian society in social related matters. We would like to provide the facilities for the other organisations and NGOs also.

Hence this is an open invitation to you to organise meetings, seminars, conferences, trainings, interviews, etc., at our Institute. We have facilities such as Auditoriums, Conference Halls, Seminar Halls, Classrooms, etc., for your programmes.

Our Institute has residential facilities also for the participants to stay during the programmes. We provide reasonably good food and accommodation facilities at our Residence. All these facilities are provided at a reasonable cost.
